For relationships to flourish between fathers and their children, they must both:

1. embrace the grace of their heavenly Father.

*Both fathers and children need to find their value and significance from being loved, accepted, and chosen by their heavenly Father.

2. reflect the grace of our heavenly Father.

A. The best Father’s Day gift you can give to your father is grace.

B. The best gift you can give your children is to reflect God’s grace.
